

FIRST IRVING

SONG BOOK

Third Edition

Church Family,

The Song Book that you are holding is a testament to this fact: we (the pastors at First Irving) deeply care about singing as a church family! We desire to have a singing church. As Christians, we understand that God’s Word both commands and compels each of us to sing. Psalm 66:1-2 says, “Shout for joy to God, all the earth; sing the glory of his name; give to him glorious praise!” This tells us so much, but I’d like to point out two things: First, that we must sing, but more foundational is the second truth – that God is magnificently, unquestionably, and supremely worthy of our songs and praise! As the old hymn says, “How can I keep from singing?!”

In the New Testament we clearly see that it’s the gospel, the good news that God saves sinners, that compels us to sing to “one another” having the “word of Christ” dwelling in us richly (Col. 3:16). So, we desired to give you this Song Book as a discipleship tool to help facilitate singing and glorifying God among the membership at First Irving. We understand singing to be incredibly formational and a means of grace for God’s people, so we pray God uses this book to stir our souls to treasure and love God (Father, Son, & Holy Spirit) increasingly in every season of life.

In this book we have tried to select some of the very best songs that our church sings. There are certainly more we could have included (perhaps more to come later!), but these are particularly strong in rich biblical content and seem to have an enduring quality to them. In the spirit of 1 Thessalonians 5:23-24, we pray that God would use this Song Book to His glory and as a part of “sanctifying you completely.”

First Irving
Worship Ministry Convictions

“Make disciples locally and globally for the glory of God” (Matt. 28:18-20, Acts 1:8, Eph. 4:12)

At First Irving, the Worship Ministry is committed to:

1. Exalting Jesus

- We believe a faithful worship ministry magnifies the greatness of God in Jesus Christ (Heb. 1:3; 2 Cor. 4:6) through the power of the Holy Spirit (Worship Matters, Kauflin). This makes our worship distinct from every other religion. It’s what makes us distinctly Christian. This conviction is not some scheme to diminish the Father’s glory or to avoid the Spirit. God’s glory in the Trinity is a shared glory. Thus, to glorify the Son is to glorify the Father and the Spirit. Jesus said in John 12:32 that when He is lifted up (exalted) He will draw all people to himself. So, as we exalt Jesus in our gatherings we get to see, by God’s grace and power alone, people drawn to salvation.

- Practically, this means that we sing a great deal of songs that have the Person and work of Jesus gloriously depicted. So many of our songs will be gospel-centered because it is all we have to boast in as Christians (Gal. 6:14, Phil. 3:7-8). All of our new life has come from Christ’s death in our place on the cross and then His victorious resurrection three days later. For many, the cross is only a symbol of death and defeat, but for followers of Jesus it is our victory and life (1 Cor. 1:23-25). More than all this, we exalt Jesus and His redemptive work because Christ’s death in our place makes Christian worship possible (Jn. 4:23, Heb. 4:16, 10:19-22). God receives, accepts, and delights in all of our imperfect offerings of praise each Sunday because Jesus is our perfect and permanent High Priest and Mediator (Heb. 7:24, 25).

2. Singing Truth

- We believe that to be faithful Christians, we need strong theology all throughout our services. What we say about God really matters – His glory is at stake. God’s Word tells us that all of our lives are to be lived for God’s glory – for his renown or fame (1 Cor. 10:31), so what we say about God in our songs either enhances his glory or diminishes it. So, the words (the truth) of our songs are very important to us. Col. 3:2 calls believers to set their minds on things above, not only emotions. Beyond this foundational desire, we are called to make disciples. The lyrics we choose to sing as a church will shape our church spiritually – we view corporate worship as spiritual formation. This means that we want to avoid inaccurate, misleading, or unclear lyrics in our songs. To be sure, Jesus in John 4 said that the Father is seeking those who will worship Him in spirit and in truth, so Christian worship should be a beautiful balance of right thoughts about God and right affections for God (Matt. 22:37). We must guard against the unhealthy tendency of leaning too far in one direction.

- We believe that right theology (what we think about God) is what leads us to the right emotions for God. As fallen sinners, we can easily be swept away by emotion that isn’t grounded in biblical truth (Jer. 17:9). Being emotionally moved is different than being spiritually changed. Therefore, the songs we sing should be rich in biblical truth (2 Tim. 3:16) so that we can feel the right emotions toward God and truly be transformed (Rom. 12:1-2).

- Practically, we approach music pastorally. We try to think carefully about themes and specific messages in songs that our people need to sing to prepare them for the upcoming sermon, their week, and ultimately for eternity. So, we will not ordinarily sing what tops the Christian music charts. There may be very good songs there, but more fundamentally we want to sing biblically accurate, theologically rich, and gospel-saturated songs.

3. Congregational Singing

- We believe biblical praise is vocal and corporate. When you read the Psalms you find that when praise is being described it is referring to being present with the people of God, rather than alone at home. So biblically, the pattern for praise is that it's out loud (vocal) and corporate, so that others can be edified by the testimony in the assembly. Clearly, one of the most significant ways that we praise God today is through singing – and this is the primary way that we praise God in our gatherings at First Irving.
- Colossians 3:16 is such an important verse in the New Testament about corporate singing. In this passage Paul effectively signs up every Christian for the choir! Every Christian is called to lift their voice in song (Even if others have told you differently!) We are collectively edified by each other's voices in corporate worship. We often don't realize how important all of our voices are and that all throughout Scripture we are commanded to sing and praise God.
- Practically, when we gather as a church body, we view every Christian present as an active participant, not just a passive spectator. Throughout church history the church regularly assembled to do “the work of the people” (where our English word liturgy comes from). So, our order of service is what the whole church participates in each week, not fundamentally what they receive from a platform. Even during the preaching we pray and hope our church is actively listening in faith. This reality is powerfully seen in Col. 3:16 and Eph. 5:19 as Paul commands every believer (not just leaders and pastors) to let the Word of Christ dwell in them (being filled with the Spirit in Ephesians) and then to respond in singing to one another.
- Regularly we intentionally scale back our stage musicians and worship leaders to encourage congregational singing. We have found that if our music is too loud and over-powering from the stage, we can actually discourage the congregation from singing powerfully. In fact, every Sunday we desire that our church's singing would over-power the band and worship leaders! We also have a very bright sanctuary with large windows all around. We love that we can see and interact with one another in our corporate worship and believe it actually helps us facilitate the picture we see in Col. 3:16 and Eph. 5:19 (“addressing one another” in songs).

4. Covenant Membership – Utilizing Members (not professionals)

- We believe covenant members should occupy visible leadership positions within the worship ministry. The way that we see the church in Scripture profoundly shapes this conviction (not just in worship ministry, but all throughout our church). Fundamentally, a church in the New Testament is an assembly (ecclesia) of believers; believers that have gathered to edify one another and participate in the ordinances (Lord's Supper and Baptism).
- We welcome, hope, and expect non-believers to be present every time we gather as a church. We believe that one of the most powerful evangelistic opportunities that the Lord gives us is our corporate gatherings where non-believers will regularly hear the gospel preached, see the gospel shine through the Lord's Supper and Baptism, and get to (in part) experience the gospel in our supernatural love for one another (John 13:35).

- Practically, in our church we consider the role of worship leaders and band members a weighty calling. James tells us that “not many of you should be teachers” (3:1) because their judgment will be stricter. We believe worship leaders are teachers – they are weekly putting scripture and theology into the hearts and minds of congregants and often it is the music that people leave remembering most. This is unbelievably weighty!
- Our worship leaders and band members are committed, covenant church members like everyone else. Because they are set on a leadership platform every week, we expect them to be exemplary church members and possess high Christian character. More than that, it is our conviction that every person on stage leading music is fundamentally a worship leader (band members included). Non-believers cannot worship God because they haven’t bowed down to or surrendered to Jesus yet, and they don’t have the Spirit of God within them. Therefore, non-believers fundamentally cannot lead worship.
- Professional musicians (non-church members) may have a place in church music occasionally (special events), but we believe that a stage that is regularly filled with paid professionals (not to mention possibly unbelievers) is counterintuitive to the gospel message. Too often it can show that we value production and “excellence” over gospel fidelity and character in leadership. To be clear, we do value biblical excellence and quality in worship and seek every opportunity to remove any obstacle that would distract from displaying the glory of Christ through song each week.

5. Unified Worship

- We believe in a unified vision of ministry at First Irving. In Titus chapter 2, we see a beautiful picture of multi-generational ministry. Older men and women are to disciple the younger generation, “showing [themselves] in all respects to be a model of good works” to the watching eyes around them. We desire our older members to be present around our younger members in consistent and meaningful ways.
- Practically, in our corporate worship context, we pursue having everyone worshipping together as one body (Neh. 8:1) – rather than separated by time, style or age. We do seek to faithfully make our music contextual, though we do not necessarily cater to any specific generation in our musical worship. God in His great grace has given us many generations of people in our church. Our hope is to, by God’s grace, disciple all of them and prepare them for eternity.
- More than this, we see it as such a benefit to worship alongside multiple generations of people – both the older and younger. We believe it portrays a greater picture of the gospel in that what unites us (Jesus Christ) is so much greater than what could potentially divide us.
- Our music will regularly include both old and new songs. As stated earlier, we feel no pressure to play only what is “current,” instead we want to choose songs that, as Keith Getty says, our people can “grow old with.” Again, we want songs that won’t just get our people through the week (though we certainly want to do that!), but rather prepare our church family to meet Christ in eternity!

Family Worship Song Suggestions

The activity of singing is a wonderfully effective way to connect emotionally with biblical truth, and to commit these truths to memory. Because of this, it is extremely important that we sing songs rich in theology and beautiful in melody. Is the song teaching you and your family anything about God? Is what it is teaching doctrinally sound? And is the music and melody easy to sing and remember? To get you started, we have put together a list of song suggestions from our pastors:

- HIS MERCY IS MORE - verses speak clearly of the gospel and God's merciful character (p. 22).
- HE WILL HOLD ME FAST - communicates the assurance of salvation clearly, while also being relatable. The idea of "being held" can resonate well with kids (p. 21).
- LORD I NEED YOU - talks of our full dependence on Jesus, with a singable melody (p. 39).
- HOW DEEP THE FATHER'S LOVE FOR US - conveys the love of God in a compelling way, and has a great singable melody for kids (p. 24).
- JESUS, THANK YOU - Gospel-centered and rich theology paired with a simple chorus that all ages will appreciate (p. 34).
- GREAT IS THY FAITHFULNESS - theme of God's faithfulness that teaches the unchanging nature of God, and His unwavering love and compassion for us (p. 19).
- WITH SIMPLE FAITH - how are we saved? By turning to Jesus and trusting completely in Him! This song reminds us of this beautiful, profound, and simple truth (p. 62).
- HOLY, HOLY, HOLY - gives a great overview of many of the attributes of God. Also is very singable (p. 23).
- LET THE NATIONS BE GLAD - strong message of God's love for the nations and His heart for missions (p. 37).
- DOXOLOGY - wonderfully rich and simple song (first published in 1709) that gives praise to the Triune God with a beautiful melody suited for all ages (p. 65).

Introduction to the Nashville Number System

In this edition of the song book we have decided to utilize the Nashville Number System for our music notation. This is an amazingly flexible system that allows you to easily play any song in any key so that you can best serve your community group, family, or any other group that may be using this book.

Below is a chart that explains how this number system works. Feel free to write in the lettered chords on song pages as you are getting started with this system. We feel confident that in no time, with a little practice, you will be able to play each song only by looking at the numbers. Spend some time studying the chart below to familiarize yourself with how this number system works. If you need further help in using this number system just reach out to First Irving's worship staff.
